

What is Claimed is:

1. A method for paying for international business reply mail that is processed by a second carrier located in a second country and a first carrier located in a first country, comprising the steps of:
 - charging a sender's meter located in the first country for postage that is due the second carrier for processing business reply mail that is deposited by a recipient with the second carrier; and
 - charging a sender's meter located in the first country for postage that is due the first carrier for business reply mail that is received from the second carrier and delivered to a party located in the first country.
2. The method claimed in claim 1, wherein the party is the sender.
3. The method claimed in claim 1, further including the step of:
 - paying the first carrier the amount charged to the sender's meter for the first carrier's postage.
4. The method claimed in claim 1, further including the step of:
 - printing on the business reply mail an indication of the amount of postage charged to the sender's meter for the first carrier's postage.
5. The method claimed in claim 1, further including the step of:

paying the second carrier the amount charged to the sender's meter for the second carrier's postage.

6. The method claimed in claim 1, further including the step of:
printing on the business reply mail an indication of the amount of postage charged to the sender's meter for the second carrier's postage.
7. The method claimed in claim 1, further including the step of:
delivering an item containing the international business reply mail from a sender located in the first country to a recipient located in the second country.
8. The method claimed in claim 7, further including the step of:
charging the sender's meter for delivering the item.
9. The method claimed in claim 8, further including the steps of:
printing on the item an indication of the amount of postage charged to the sender's meter for the first carrier's postage; and printing on the business item an indication of the amount of postage charged to the sender's meter for the second carrier's postage.
10. The method claimed in claim 7, further including the step of:

paying the first carrier the amount charged to the sender's meter for delivering the item; and paying the second carrier the amount charged to the sender's meter for delivering the item.

11. The method claimed in claim 7, further including the step of:

indicating on the item the amount of business reply mail that may be returned to the sender.
12. The method claimed in claim 11, further including the step of:

determining an expected business reply response factor for the international business reply mailing.
13. The method claimed in claim 12, further including the step of:

determining a cost of mailing the expected business reply responses.
14. The method claimed in claim 13, further including the step of:

charging the sender's meter for the cost of mailing the expected business reply responses.
15. The method claimed in claim 14, further including the step of:

counting the number of international business reply mail processed by the first and second carriers.

16. The method claimed in claim 15, further including the step of:
determining the total amount of postage due the first and second carrier for processing the counted international business reply mail.
17. The method claimed in claim 7, further including the step of:
indicating on the international business reply mail the expiration date that the sender's meter will be charged for processing specific batches of international business reply mail.